SPORT at the SERVICE OF HUMANITY

Sport at the Service of Humanity (SSH) was launched after The First Global Conference on Faith & Sport held at The Vatican in October 2016. It has become a global movement to leverage the power of Faith & Sport as a platform for good.

The original historic event was led by POPE FRANCIS, UN Secretary General BAN KI-MOON and IOC President THOMAS BACH, and attended by 400+ key leaders and influencers from the world of faith, sport, business, government, NGOs and other sectors.

Prepared by the Dicastery for Culture, today the SSH movement has developed its mission, identity, partnerships and activities around the world. From Youth Programmes, to Mentorship Activities, Fun Days to Research Projects, International Conferences to Partnerships with Local Events, the SSH has a strong, well-branded universal presence. We invite you to visit its website to discover more about it.
